

A small coaching circle for senior women in tech.

Six sessions. Eight women. A room for the decision underneath the decision.

THE INVITATION

For the women who have outgrown
the version everyone still admires.

You outgrew the career everyone else still admires. This coaching circle is for senior women in tech who are standing at a point of choice and want to decide what comes next with more clarity, more self-trust, and more intention.

Maybe the role still works on paper, but not in your body. Maybe AI has changed the shape of the work, the pace, the expectations, or your appetite for staying where you are. Maybe you are not confused so much as done pretending the old version still fits.

*“Simple structure. Deep work.
A decision from the inside out.”*

WHAT YOU'LL WALK AWAY WITH

Not another framework. A decision made from the inside out.

- Language for the choice you are actually standing in.
- A clearer read on what is yours to keep and let go.
- Grounded next moves — for the role, pivot, or pause.
- One private 60-minute 1:1 coaching session with the founder.
- A trusted circle of peers past the surface conversation.
- Practices that hold beyond the six sessions.

FORMAT

- 6 sessions · begins week of August 3
- Cadence: weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly
- 8 senior career-level women
- Live virtual sessions · 75 minutes
- 1 × 60-minute 1:1 for each participant

INVESTMENT

$799

Early bird · $699 before July 14

A curated rate for this cohort. Payment may be split into two installments.

Six sessions.

One decision made from the inside out.

A structured arc. Each session builds on the last. Plus one private 60-minute 1:1 with Sally.

SESSION 1

Tell the truth about where you are

Get honest about the choice in front of you: what is over, what still has life in it, and what you already know but have not said out loud.

Outcome · A clearer read on the real decision in front of you and the patterns shaping it.

SESSION 2

Find your footing again

Look at what has been draining confidence. Work directly with the inner critic patterns that get louder when you try to make a real move.

Outcome · More self-trust and a practical way to catch yourself when old patterns start driving.

SESSION 3

Get clear on what matters now

Name your values, needs, and non-negotiables for this season. Not the success you inherited. Not the role you outgrew. What matters now.

Outcome · A stronger filter for choosing roles, opportunities, and next steps that fit who you are now.

SESSION 4

Put words around your next chapter

Shape a cleaner story about your transition, your experience, and the direction you want to move in — language you can actually use.

Outcome · Language you can use in conversations, networking, LinkedIn, applications, and introductions.

SESSION 5

Choose your next moves

Turn clarity into action. Pick the conversations, experiments, applications, and boundaries that move you forward instead of keeping you in loops.

Outcome · A 30–60 day action blueprint with specific moves and timelines that feels real enough to follow.

SESSION 6

Leave with momentum

Name your commitments, your support, and your next step. Close with a simple ceremony to mark what is ending and what you are choosing.

Outcome · A clear next step, a stronger sense that you can trust yourself to take it, and a marked transition you can look back on.
